REMOVAL OF OLD CEMETERY FILE Old Colonial: Cemetery, at Wan-tsai, in the above Colony, having become sur-rounded by a dense population of Chinese of the poorer classes, it is found difficult to keep it in a condition of decency and electivess; it is THEREFORE NOTIFIED that it is proposed reverently and decently to remove all monuments and tombsiones in such Cemetery, as well as all remains which may be found there, to the existing Colonial Cemetery in the Happy Yalley, where such remains will be re-interred. The monuments will be repaired and grouped round a plain memorial stone on which it will be stated from what part of the tolony they have baen removed. Survivors, friends, or relatives who may desire to make any objection to this removal, are requested to address the Colonial Secretary of Hongkong within six months from this date. -N. C. Daily News. An Indian up-country paper states that the escort accompanying the Angle-Slamese, or rather the Aprilo-Shan Siamess Boundary Commission, will probably include half a British battalion, and a mountain battery, the object view being two-fold, namely, to improve the Shan Chiefs and Siamese Government with the im portance of the mission; and secondly, to be propared for any untoward eventualities which may arise, such as disaffection, or a sudden emeute: as there is still internecine warfare on a small scale going on amongst the petty chiefs in the re moter parts of the Bhan country, whore the effect ed itself. The dubateable ground being very extensive, the fixing of the line of demarcation and the adjusting of the claims of the numerous rival Sawbans will occupy a desirof time and remission will not return before March mext. The Indian Stateman says:-Some of th sewanapers are mentioning a rumour that "the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's steamers will at the end of the present | bad news to be broken to him. He then found trofbles make a permanent change in their port of departure, leaving London for Southampton." This is, however, a good deal in advance of the actual facts. No decision of any kind has been made by the P. and O. Company; but it is notorious that Mr. Butherland is indisposed to submit tamely to the present inconveniences and hindrances of the existing dock system in the port of London; and the "rumour" is probably designed to assist the managers of the docks of the wreck. This was reached with difficulty here to a more equitable spirit, to forestall an attempt to raise rates, and to evoke offers from Southampton interests. As between London and Southamiton as a port of departure, the advantages are very far from being all on one side, and a reversion to Southampton will not be lightly resolved upon.

The N. C. Daily News says: - We are glad to learn by private advices from Peking that neither the Telegraph Convention nor its Russian Appendix has been yet signed by the Tsungli Yamen and that it is doubtful if even Li. On Black's appearance a further stand ensued, which brought on Smith in lieu of (ampbell whose patient bowling had met with no success. The change worked as the jest bowler's second delivery discomplited Bruce Robertson, and later on Black meeting a breakback from the same bowler with the inside of his bat was unlucky in playing on. Black's runs were got by stubborn cricket. The remaining wickets fell for an addition of 5 runs, the total being 84. or 27 runs ahead. If we may venture a criticism without being deemed insubordinate, the only mistake made by Coron was in taking himself off when but few runs were being scored from him, and in not giving Smith an earlier turn at the Mound end. Of the 94 runs obtained only $8 were scored off these two buwlers for 6 wickets. whilst the other trundlers tried yielded 53 runs for 2 wickets. THE TRIAL OF LORD GALLOWAY. LONDON, 14th October.

At the Damfries Sessions to-day the harl of Galloway was put on his trial charge | with indscently assaulting a little girlnamed Gibson, eleven years of age. The child in her evidence, test fled to the assault which she alleged was committed whilst she was gathering blackberries with some companions. These condrmed the child's story. Mrs. Moffat, the chief witness for the prosecution, being called, said she heard the child call Lord Galloway a "dirty blackguard," but this witness's testimony differed somewhat from that of the children, Lord Galloway's d fence was that he simply helped the girl over a wall to enable her to gather blackberries. After bearing couns-l, the presiding judge summed up, and the jury returned a verdict-o "Not Guilty," and the accused was accordingly AMERICA'S NEW WEAPON.

GOLD IN BENGAL. A correspondent writes to the Statesman as follows:-A paragraph on the above subject which lately appeared to your paper brings back to memory a few facts which may, even at this, into day, have their interest for those of your roaders who are concerned in the contemplated search for gold in Chota Nagpers. More than twenty years ago I knew a man who much this very fiscovery. From his birth he could nelther bear nor speak. Living in very bumble circumstances in the Midland counties (England), he was seized while yet a young man, with what was called 'gold fever'; and with this mania upon him, he left his home there and worked his passage, to the Australian colonies in one of the numerous sailing ships. which made the voyage round the Cape of G od Hope from sheland. Impelled by this same instinct, he afterwards worked his passage to India and made his way to the northmest provinces, where I first fell in with him. The same justinot convinced him that he had overshet the mark, and that by some means or other he most work his way back to Bengal - stieff d that gold awaited him in the river-bads of Chota Nagpore. By the help of a friend (whom I also knew, but who has since died he was supplied with the means of making the journey. Patiently parsning his object, his enthusiasm was duly rewarded. In the cold senson of 1868-69 be discovered a considerable quantity of gold in a mara or less pure state among the sand-beds of ravines and rivers in the wilder and less fr quented regions of that district. Samples of the discovery he submitted to Sir Richard Temple: then, if I remember aright, Finance Minister in the council of Sir John Lawrence. The fact of the improvery was admitted by Sir Rich rd Tample: but when the poor deaf-mute urged that owing to his poverty it was im, o sible for him to pursue the enterprise unaid d, he was informed that everyment had not sufficient funds to andertake it. The disappointed man, leth to leave what he had for so many years outdergone such great privations to discover, made another visit to the gild district, and baving supplied himself with a larger quantity of samples left the district for ever ired of the eva, he resolved to walk from India to his home in England. Taking the regular roads, he footed it the whole war, and on reaching Manchester he wrote a letter to his kind henofactor thanking him for his kin luess and assoring him of his safe arrival. That letter I saw and read Whether he wont through the Amit's territories or took another route. I do not know, The surprising thing is that a man who had no manage means whatever of communicating with the peoples through whose regions he passed succeeded so well in making his way. He had nothing whatever with him but the simple bundle of the English 'tramp,' and was supplied with but the most meagre purse. Yet he never spoke of want. It speaks wonders for the natural kindness of the Asiatio races, that the man was always supplied, from village to single complaint of unkindness or ill-neage. The case corroborates what has been so often noted, that the peoples of Asia hold in peculiar did indeed walk through the territory of the Afghans, he must have owed his safeguard to some such principle as that; for he made no pretence of disguise in the matter of clothing; and
